

Fellowships and Grants

ACTON INSTITUTE
for the Study of Religion and Liberty

F A C T S H E E T

How to Apply

- Visit www.acton.org/programs/students to download applications and to obtain additional information about eligibility, conditions, the selection process, application requirements, and deadlines.
- Scholarship questions may be directed to scholarships@acton.org.

Who is Eligible?

- Seminarians and graduate students throughout the world, irrespective of religious affiliation.
- Young Scholars studying theology, religion, philosophy, history, law, economics, or related fields.
- Those interested in the relationship between theology and the principles of a free and virtuous society. These principles include the recognition of human dignity, the importance of the rule of law, limited government, religious liberty, and the free market.
- Potential contributors to the advancement of the ideals promoted by the Acton Institute.

The Need

Many cultures are exhibiting growing distrust and suspicion of economics, profit, limited government, rule of law, and free markets. Given this, there is a significant need to redeem these concepts by examining them in relation to theology, human dignity, and the principles of a free and virtuous society. To encourage such developments, the Acton Institute's scholarship programs support future religious, intellectual, and moral leaders who show potential in advancing understanding of this relationship.

Grant Category and Award Amounts

	Travel	Academic
Calihan Fellowships All seminarians and graduate students.	Up to $3,000 Award period ongoing.	Up to $3,000 2 deadlines per year.
	Intellectual Achievement
Novak Award For scholars who have received a doctorate in the past five years or for current doctoral candidates.	$10,000 1 award per year.

Interested in Supporting Young Scholars?

If you are interested in donating to a scholarship fund, or if you would like to fund a fellowship, please contact Acton's advancement staff at info@acton.org.